

WILSON LEARNING EUROPA LEADS PRESENTATION SKILLS SESSIONS AT PROJECT MANAGEMENT INSTITUTE (PMI) EMEA CONGRESS 2008.

Beaconsfield, Buckinghamshire, UK. — May 19th, 2008 —

Wilson Learning Europa - EMEA operation of global Human Performance Improvement providers Wilson Learning Worldwide - today announces its participation as session leaders at the Project Management Institute (PMI) Global Congress 2008 – EMEA.

The PMI Global Congress 2008—EMEA is the leading project management educational and networking event in Europe, the Middle East and Africa. The three-day event takes place in St. Julians, Malta, from 19th – 21st May 2008 and provides project managers with the chance to gather the know-how and inspiration needed for project management success and discuss the most challenging project management trends.

Wilson Learning is excited to be supporting this key event, attended by in excess of 500 project management professionals from across Europe and beyond. This will be the fourth occasion where Wilson Learning has actively supported the Project Management Institute, having already led interactive sessions for the project manager audience discussing key issues such as Managing Conflict, Negotiation Skills and Global / Cultural Awareness.

This year, Wilson Learning's 'Persuasion through Presentation' master facilitator, Mr. John Armitage, will be representing the company, leading double sessions on both Monday 19th and Tuesday 20th May.

Each of the three hour interactive sessions focus on developing the delegate's presentation skills. The sessions are entitled: 'Presenting Effectively: deliver your project plan with confidence and clarity' and are expected to be attended by in excess of 75 delegates per session.

Armitage comments "I am personally delighted to be presenting Wilson Learning at this year's PMI Congress EMEA. Having worked with many multi-national client organizations to develop their key employees presentation skills over the years, it is exciting to be able to share Wilson Learning tools and processes to help the growing 'project manager' population make more effective presentations."

Wilson Learning is proud of its ongoing relationship with the Project Management Institute and the company's involvement at the increasingly popular congresses for the project management profession. Both Wilson Learning and PMI share in the belief that 'continual learning' is at the core of improving business results.
